DEDICATION

The ninth grade takes pride in dedicating the Postscript of '59 to Mrs. Scappucci. Her wisdom as a teacher and her warmth as a friend will remain in our hearts always.

Through the Years

PRE- SCHOOL

First Row, Kneeling: Heath Alexander.

Second Row, Standing: Bevy Hemby, Jena Stewart, Rene Farwell, Miss Dawson, Jap Hunt, Jr., Benjie Richter, Barby Hammond, Julia Goode.

Third Row, Sliding Board: Julia Johnson, Cindy Holbrook, Randy Trotter, Buffer Williamson, Mrs. Lofton, Ellen Sargent, Davey Wright, Margo Ross, Tommy Howe, Lane Richardson, Andy Salisbury, Tommy Morton.

Absent: Fay Shaw, Julie Cramer, Renee Jarrendt, Mark Rosenthal, Joel Slesinger, Phil Johnson.

You came to Pre-School at Country Day School in the year 1958-1959. You set about with zest helping to fashion a pattern which has offered security for us all and freedom for each. You have learned that patterns and routines can be happily flexible to meet new needs. You have spent much time establishing relationships with your peers while accepting guidance from those provided to help you.

Your school year has presented time to work and play, time for thinking, listening, and remembering. New concepts of language and word skills have come your way. You have had time to laugh and be gay. Through games and rhythms, your body knows better control, and your confidence has increased.

Numbers have fascinated you as you have become familiar with adding and subtracting when you wanted the right number of pennies to buy juice at the store. Interpretive dancing and imaginative play and stories have developed your kinship with the dramatic world. French you experience as fun.

Your artistic expressions in clay, paint, and crayon have fostered your need to create, and the thoughts and feelings you have shared have enriched your spiritual life and the life around you.

You have new wings, little Pre-Schooler. We are interested in your flight.

FIRST GRADE

Twenty-two First Graders have had a stimulating and interesting nine months covering everything from Arithmetic to Zoology.

September began with many interesting activities that helped us get ready for all the things we would learn about reading, science, numbers, art, writing, music, French, and language development.

In October, we turned from happy six-year-olds to scary witches and goblins in order to take part in the Halloween parade and party.

November found us showing our appreciation for all the things we had through original stories and our Thanksgiving offerings.

The excitement of the Christmas breakfast and John Stroud's surprise did not keep us from getting a solid understanding of the phonetics that were started in the fall.

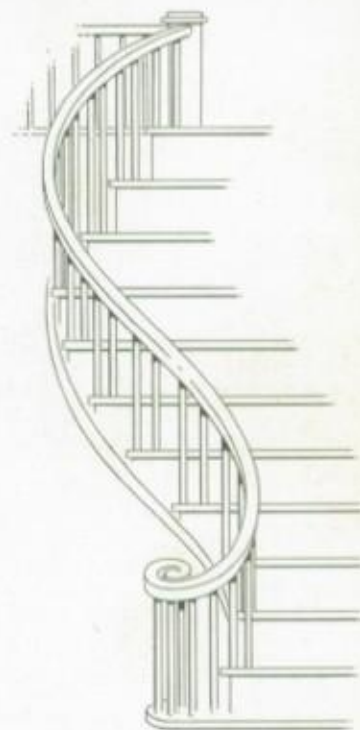

January was a month of hard work, many birthdays, and our French program.

February was a happy combination of Valentines and pets. The First Grade broadened its science concepts by the acquisition of three snakes, a hamster, two mice, two rats, and Mr. and Mrs. Fish.

Spring vacation at the end of March was an inspiration to work even harder in the three "R's" and to get our "Five Senses" ready for the Science Fair.

April brought Mrs. Hagen, our games teacher, and lots of physical preparation and high hopes for blue ribbons at Sports Day.

May gave us an opportunity to show our proficiency in French as we rode our horses into Paris for May Day. We ended the year with a music program and a trip to the library to get Second Grade books for our summer reading.

SECOND GRADE

First Row: Janet Leonard, Ann Long, Suzanne McMullen, Suzy Smith, Mary Jane Brown, Mickie Pittman, Debbie Gilmore, Mary Grey Reid, Jackie Highsmith.

Second Row: Chris Montgomery, Lex Cooper.

Third Row: Ben Howe, Ted Lymberis, Mike Scappucci, Marty Tilson, Vernon Goode, Mot Wood, Phil Bray.

Second Grade proved to be a year of fun and excitement. Though we played hard, our studies always came first. As the year progressed, we discovered three big challenges. The mastery of borrowing and carrying and proving our answers correct intrigued us all. And of course, learning to write in script was the pride of all of us.

Our third challenge turned out to be a very unusual "thing" which appeared one day in March. After much ohh-ing and ahh-ing, we learned that "Mr. It" was a model of the human torso, complete with removable organs. Soon, we were able to discuss the organs in our body. It was exciting to be able to trace the digestion of our food. We were very sorry to see "Mr. It" leave us. A trip to Dr. Reid's Clinic climaxed our study of the human body.

Other field trips included a walk to locate leaves; a trip through Russell's Bakery, complete with a treat; and a most interesting tour through the main branch library.

Needless to say, we were very pleased with ourselves for winning first place in the Lower School in the Book Find.

Mrs. Winters came to us in April as our new teacher and guided and taught us through the excitement of Sports Day, May Day, and the completion of Second Grade.

The Third Grade has had a very busy schedule. We have had a wonderful time with parties and have learned a great deal in our studies.

This year we have placed a heavy accent on our reading program. A great windfall of books arrived for our use from the school-wide book find. Our library also received a healthy boost when we were presented a set of The World Book Encyclopedia. This has been a reliable source for our class in almost every subject.

The Science Fair was a culmination of our year's work in science. At Thanksgiving, we took an interesting trip to Price's Turkey Farm.

On the morning of Sports Day, we sang a group of songs in Assembly for the upper grades. Then we got busy and were able to claim a fair share of the blue, red, and white ribbons awarded for skill in athletics.

Pets' Day gave us an opportunity to display the pride-and-joys of many a household. Talented dogs and racing chickens furnished much entertainment and material for oral reports.

Our May Day offering was a Swedish polka and song for our Queen and her court. We were furnished beautiful costumes which brightened our dance immensely.

Highlights along the pleasure way have been our Halloween Day costume parade, the Christmas tree and gifts, a Valentine box, an Easter egg hunt, our trip to the Nature Museum, and frequent picnics which Mrs. Gant provided.

Our class officers were Henry Sloan, Bruce Thompson, Jane Bolles, and Harriette Seifart.

First Row, Sitting: Bruce Thompson, Jimmy Horn.

Second Row, On Swing: Mary Ann Hardman, Kitty Davis, Harriette Seifart, Jane Bolles.

THIRD GRADE

FOURTH GRADE

School was very interesting for our class because we had several new experiences, such as subjects with different teachers, study halls, and games periods. We greatly assisted our homeroom teacher, Mrs. Storey, by taking turns in passing out materials, collecting papers, and helping with other schoolroom duties.

Our exhibit at the Science Fair was on vertebrates. We had fun telling about the kinds of animals we had on display.

When the Student Council put on a "Book Find", we brought in many books, maps, and records. We were very surprised to learn that we had won the prize for collecting the most articles for the library.

We enjoyed parties at Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas time, and on Valentine's Day, but we received the most pleasure when we took gifts and small decorated Christmas trees to the County Home.

On May Day, our class joined the Fifth Grade to dance two Russian dances. We enjoyed doing them for the May Court, and we hope that the spectators enjoyed them, too.

Our class officers were Ben Trotter, Ken O'Herron, Chip Lovell, and Phyllis Woodward, and the grade mothers were Mrs. Trotter and Mrs. Holbrook. On May 8th, the class gave a surprise party for the mothers. The children recited poetry and served refreshments.

We have enjoyed this year and its experiences and look forward greatly to being in the Fifth Grade.

FIFTH GRADE

The Fifth Grade of Country Day School has had an exciting year and has accomplished very much. We had four new pupils join our class. They were Jenks Bagby, Suzanne Sauter, Jay Schuber, and John Stewart.

The Fifth Graders chosen as class officers were Eddie Hipp, president; Shelley Welton, vice-president; and Jenks Bagby, secretary. Charles Willard was our representative to the Student Council, and Mia Bray was elected cheerleader.

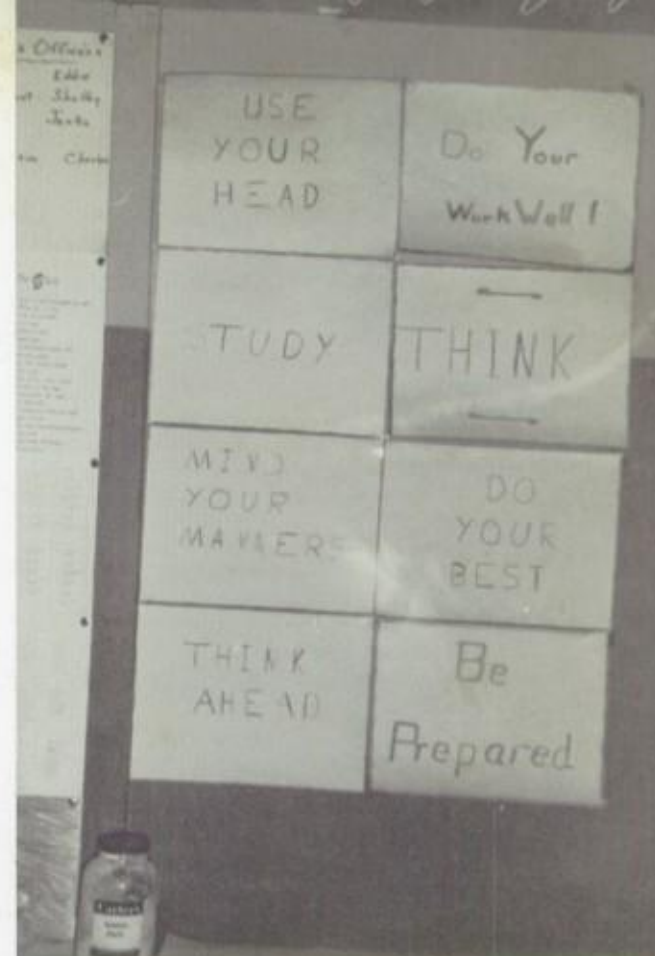

When Christmas came, we had a program. The girls sang, and we all played games. We went to the Old Folk's Home, gave them presents and sang to them.

Our grade mothers, Mrs. Hipp and Mrs. Thompson, arranged the refreshments for our Christmas and Valentine parties. They also helped with the trip to Kings Mountain where we saw many historical monuments of the Revolutionary War.

We have accomplished a great deal in our schoolwork, too. In geography, we have made illustrated booklets of two states and scrapbooks of the two newest states of the United States. In arithmetic, we have studied fractions. In science, we made both flower gardens and individual vegetable gardens. At the Science Fair, we had three projects on molecules, conservation, and navigation.

We all took part in Sports Day and did a Russian dance and song for May Day. We are very proud of Susan who won a school certificate for outstanding achievement in Sports Day.

The Fifth Grade has certainly had a wonderful time this year.

Kneeling: Charles Willard, Jerry Van Campen, Carl Hubay, Eddie Hipp, Peter Thompson, Johnny Stewart.

Standing: Jenks Bagby, Susan Rowe, Chad Smith, Sayre Lineberger, John Howe, Mia Bray, Shelley Welton, Suzanne Sauter, Carey Stokes, Mrs. Sargent, Jay Schuber.

SIXTH GRADE

The Sixth Grade has had many interesting activities this year. We have taken several field trips, our major one being a trip to Washington, D. C. on the train. We had lots of fun at the Houston Hotel where we stayed for three nights. Our chaperones, Mr. Howe and Mrs. Scappucci, took us to many interesting places, such as the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Iwo-Jima Monument, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Arlington, Nike Base, Mount Vernon, and the Museum of Natural History.

We have also had many projects to work on this year. Mrs. Bogguss, who left us at Easter with "great expectations", had given us a country of our choice to report on for geography. Mrs. Frech, our history teacher, also gave us a subject of our choice to work on. The choice we had included castle and tapestry making, writing a play, and making mosaic.

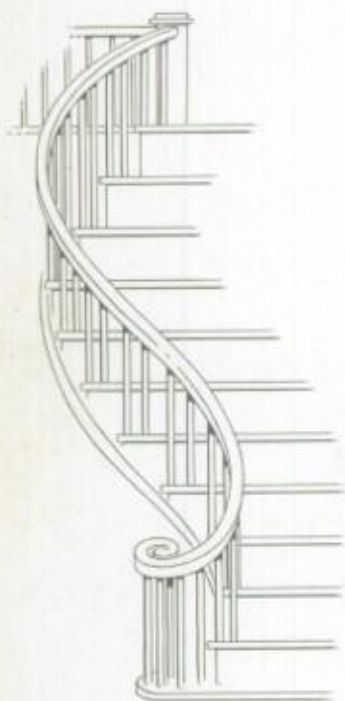

We have had lots of parties, one, at the end of the year, at the Municipal Swimming Pool which included swimming and a cookout. We also had a party on May 6th honoring Mr. Evans on his birthday.

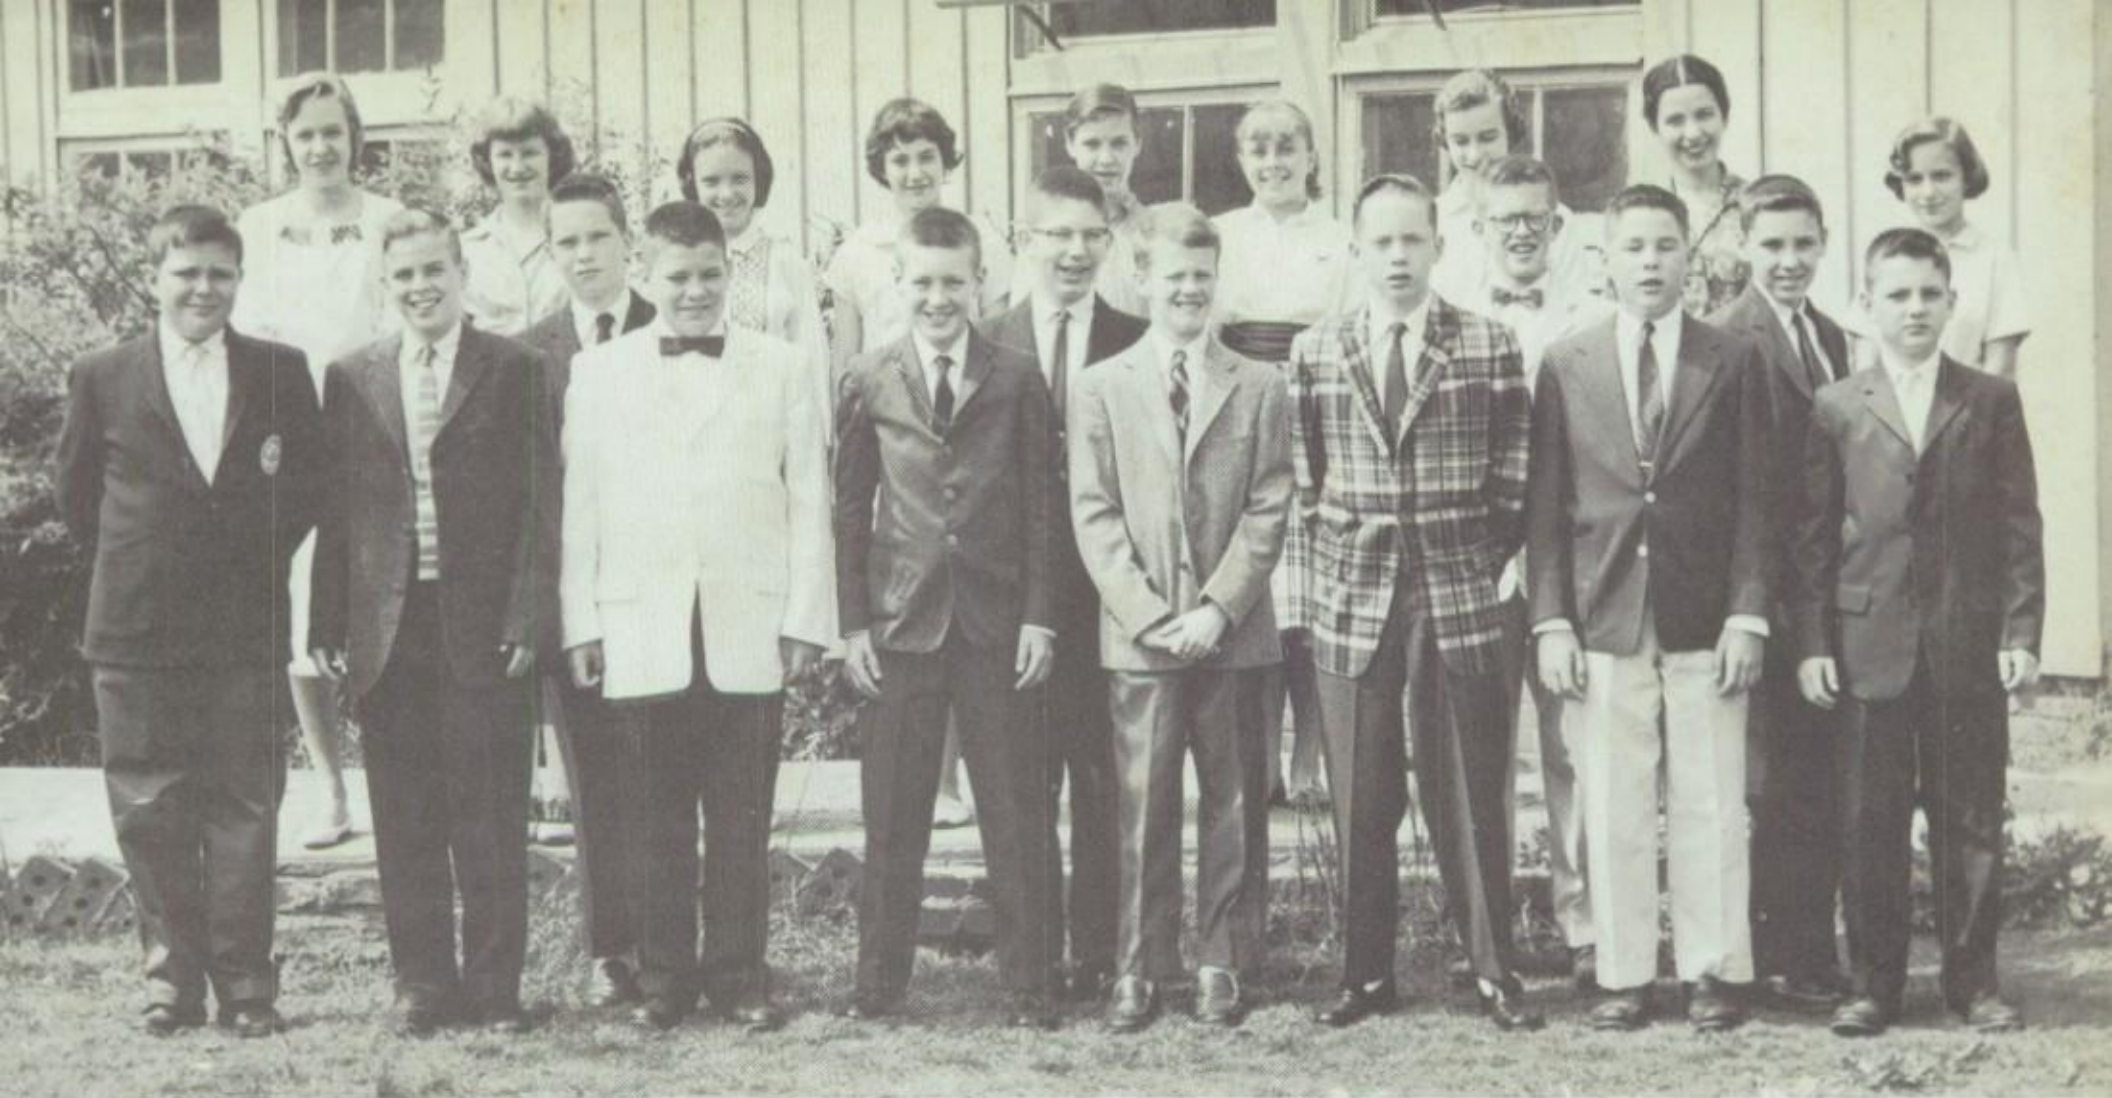

According to Mr. Evans, our homeroom teacher, we have not learned much this year, but we feel that we have accomplished quite a lot. We just hope that next year's Sixth Grade will learn as much as we have.

Second Row: John Harris, Rebecca Tuggle, Adon Smith, Mary Norcott London, John Tatem, Kathy Blythe, Will Granger.

Third Row: Mr. Evans, Frances Sanger, Ann Munroe, Lynn Pleasants, Susan Marney, Ellen Foster, Jean Hovis, Patty O'Herron, Tina Yates.

Front Row: Robbie Smith, Charles Conner, Skipper Burns, Eddie White, M. L. Cannon, Tommy Cavalaris, Michael Ehringhaus, Clayton Lineberger, Eddy Hardman, Rodney Pitts, Richard Bray, Fred Germuth.

Back Row: Boycie Lineberger, Terry Dillard, Carol Cannon, Nan Heinbaugh, Alice Myers, Sally Tull, Mary Ann Burrough, Mrs. Frech, Elizabeth Montgomery.

SEVENTH GRADE (Green)

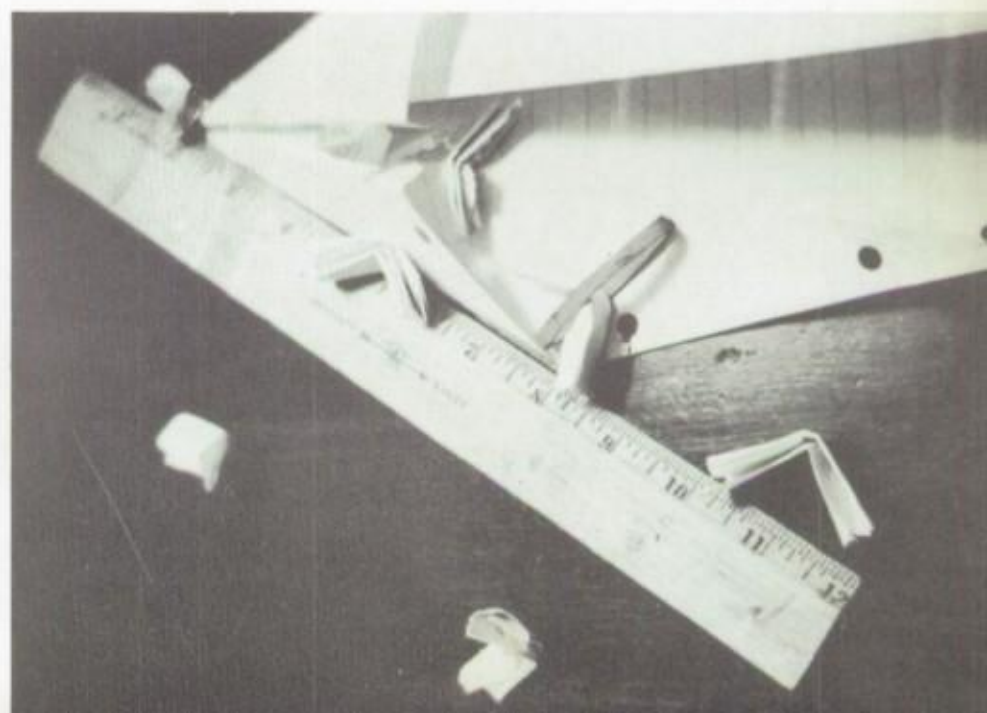

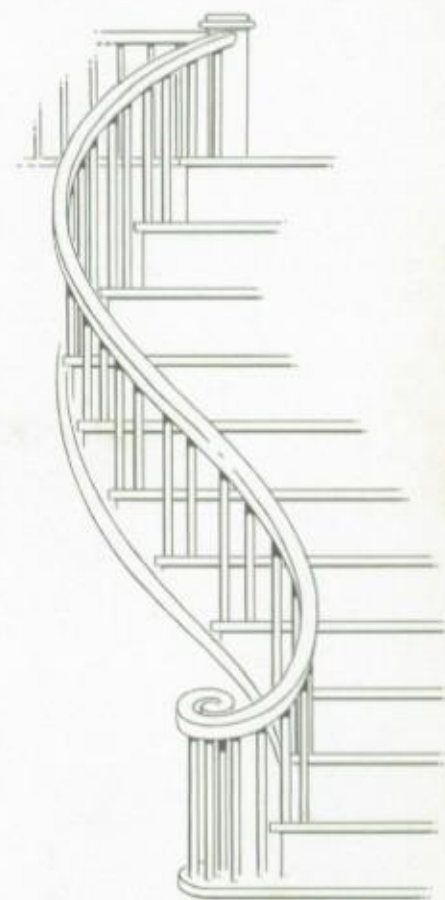

This year commenced as a usual Seventh Grade year until the new member of our class arrived. His name is Tolliver, but he is a very quiet individual; therefore, not many people know of him. Whenever he decided to talk, something wise always seemed to come out. For instance, he once said, "He who keeps his mouth and tongue, keeps himself out of trouble." This seemed to have a special meaning for us, for we are rather ram-bunctious.

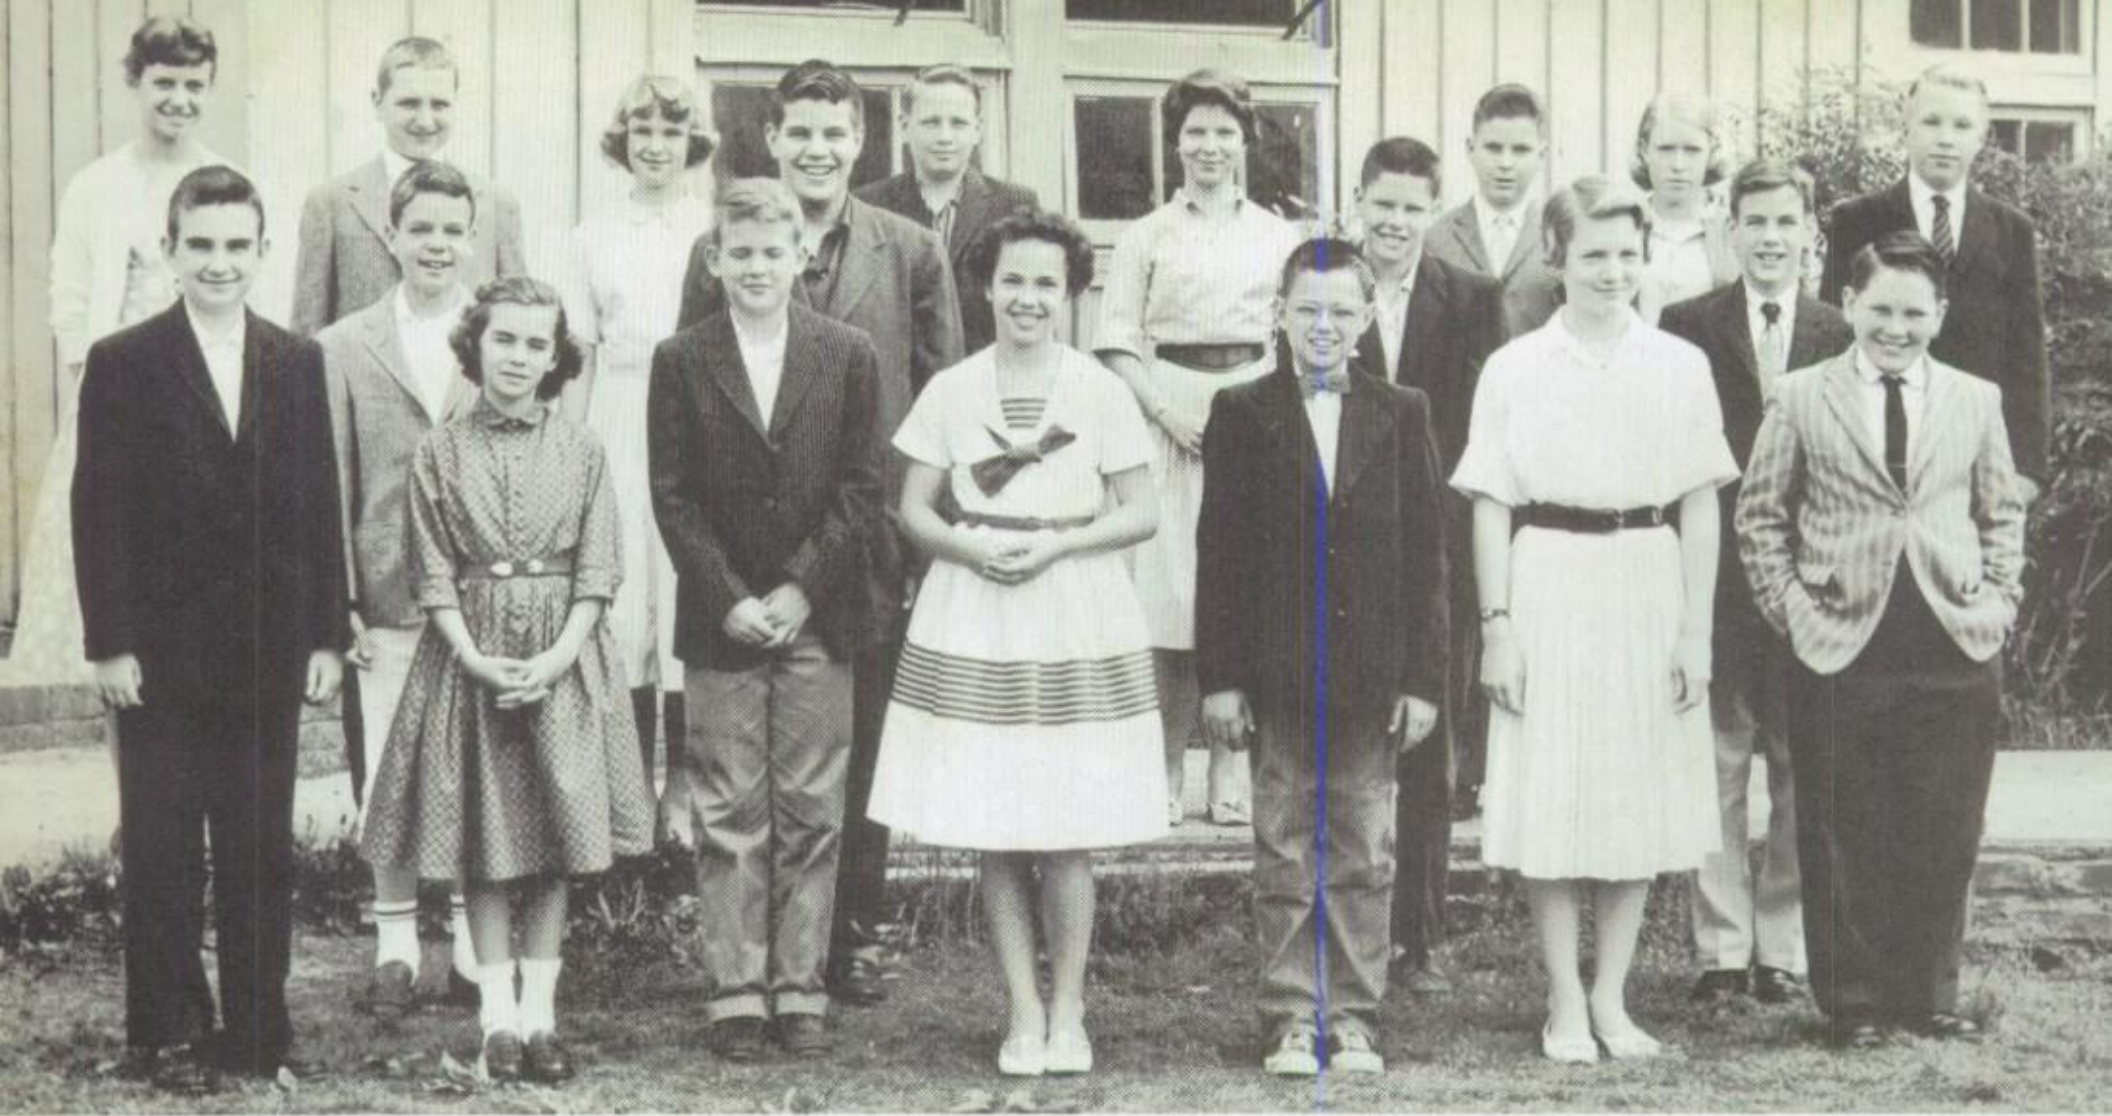

Our first big event of the year was a trip to Raleigh as a science project. We left at six-thirty in the morning, but Mrs. Frech and Tolliver missed the bus. However, Mrs. Frech made it; in fact, she was there to greet us. Wonder how she did it!

The Parents' Council gave the class a party at the Cavalaris Skating Rink. Tolliver didn't come because he can't skate.

May Day found a few of us painting our eyes, and suddenly we became Japanese. The rest of us danced around the May Pole. Since Tolliver doesn't have the ability to sing or dance, he entertained the rooster while we practiced.

This year was one to be remembered always. However, we regret to say that Tolliver won't be with us next year, for he is only a wooden toad.

Absent: Mary Jane Cotter.

SEVENTH GRADE (White)

My name is Alvin, and I spend my time spying on everybody in Seventh White. By doing so, I have learned very much about the group of students.

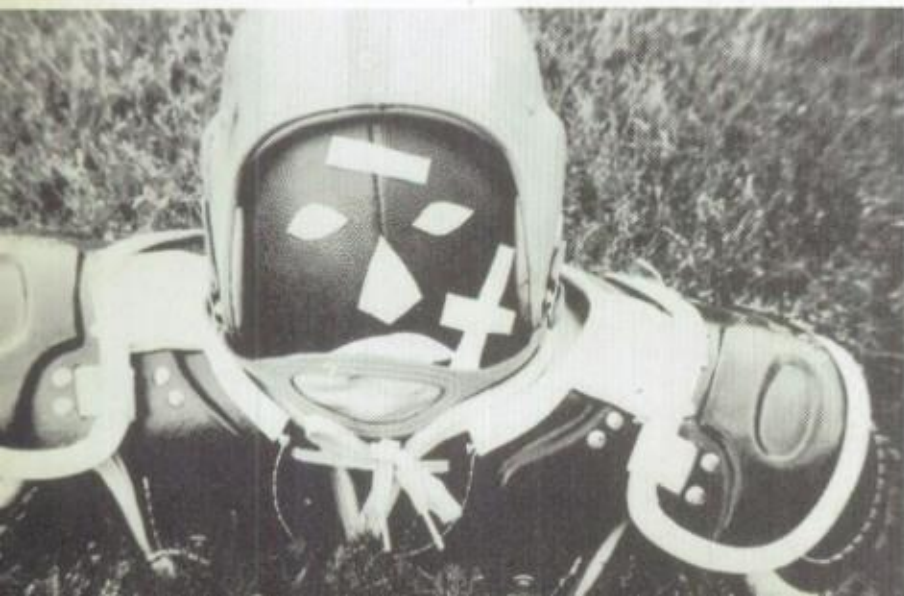

For instance, I know that Walter Brown, Coddy Coddington, Nicky Jones, David Lassiter, and Bryan Pittman received football letters at the annual Father-and-Son Banquet. Mary Jane Cotter and Stuart Efird were two of the cheerleaders who supported the teams.

I missed the bus to Raleigh, but I heard that the day spent there and in Chapel Hill with Mrs. Scappucci was a lot of fun, in addition to being educational.

Bryan Pittman was Seven White's representative to the Student Council. The capable class officers were Frank Ross, president; David Lassiter, vice-president; Stuart Efird, secretary; and Marsha Burroughs, treasurer.

On May Day, some of the class participated in the Japanese Mikado. The superb performance was ample reward for the many long practices. Other Seventh Graders wound the May Pole. With ability and precision, they performed the intricate figure without a single mistake.

These Seventh Graders have grown and matured this year. From where I sit, it looks like they are now ready to take their place of responsibility in the school life of Country Day.

EIGHTH GRADE

The Eighth Grade has had a wonderful time this year. We have accomplished a great deal in our studies, too. Mrs. Livingston introduced us to our first year of Latin, and Mrs. Ruse showed us the way to Algebra.

Our camping trip to the Smokie Mountains was lots of fun. We visited the Cherokee Reservation, and we tried our hand at mining for minerals.

The class elected Jean and Chip as our capable Student Council Representatives. Chip, Jim Strong, Tucker, and Judy were members of the editorial staff for our school newspaper the "Monitor".

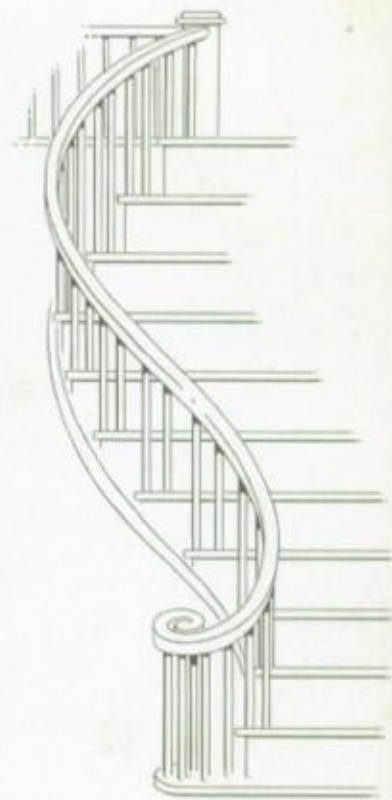

Melanie, Page, and Jean were our cute cheerleaders, and all the boys made the football team. The boys' basketball team was a great success with Tucker as captain.

Our May Day program was based on "Around the World in Eighty Minutes"; and, to a Latin American theme, we did a calypso number. We hope everyone enjoyed our dance as much as we did presenting it.

The school Chapel Committee was headed by Jean with Hal, John, Melanie as our class representatives.

The winners of the South Piedmont Science Fair were Steve, who won first in biological, Hal with a second in physical, and Chip obtained a third in biological. The Eighth Grade math project won honorable mention in physical.

We hope the future Eighth Grades will have as wonderful a year as we have had.

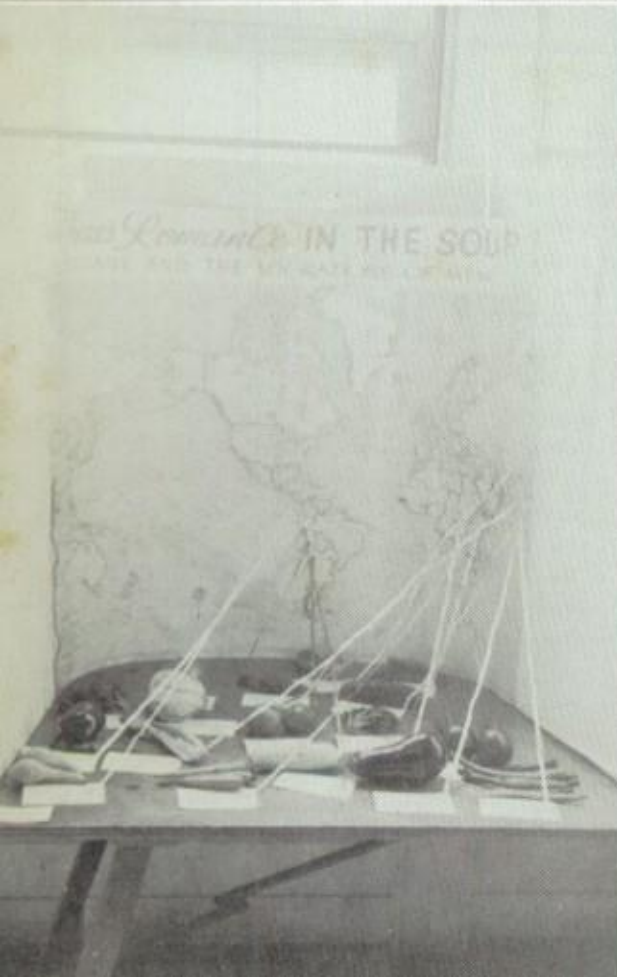

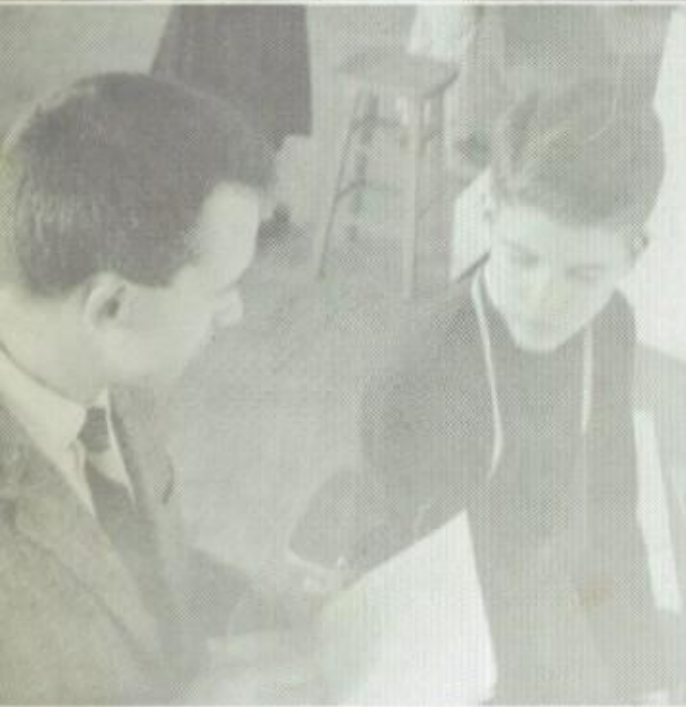

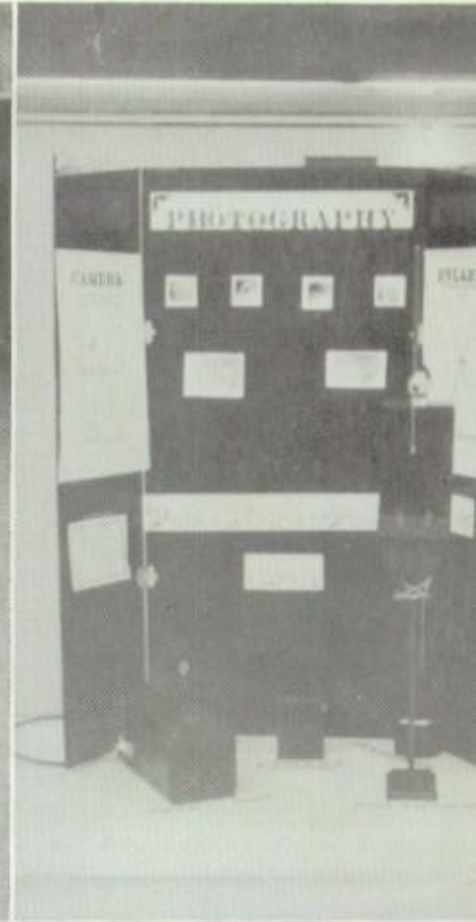

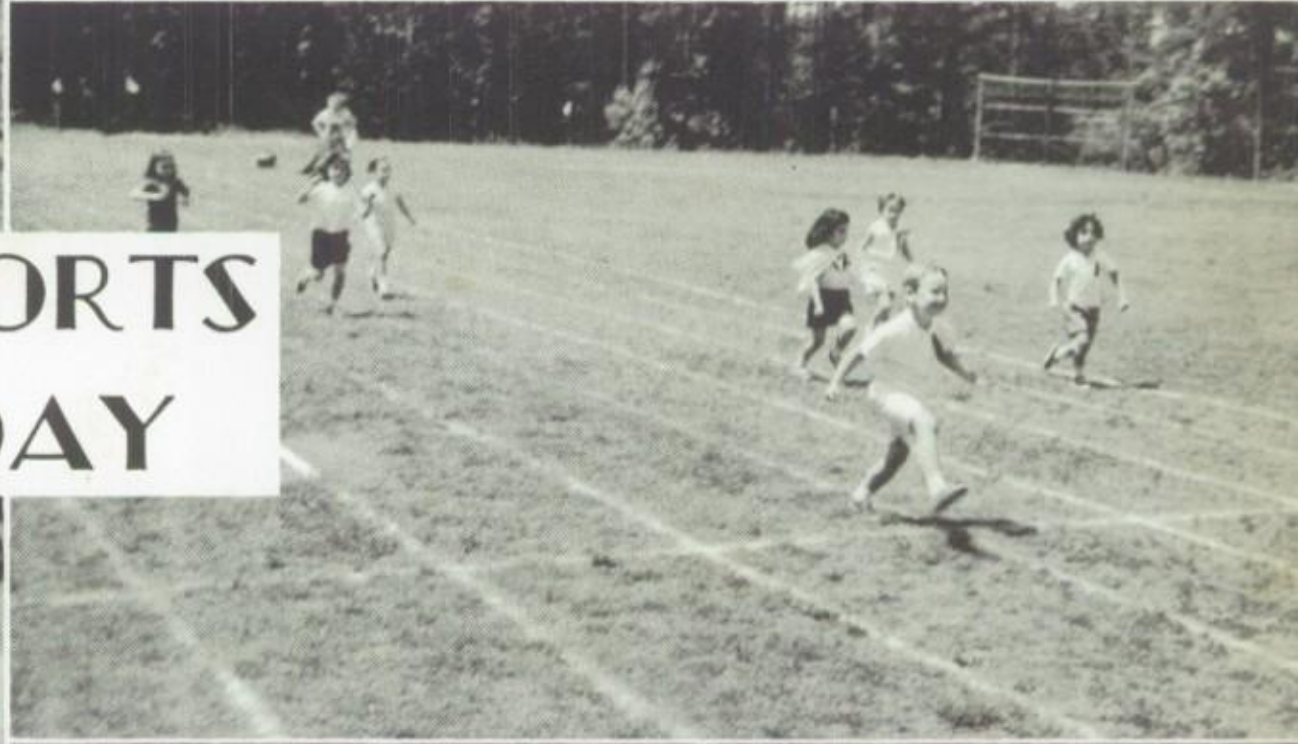

Kneeling: Chip Hanes, George Bagby, Vic Josephs, Bill Yates, Hal London, John McGuire.

CLASS HISTORY

As graduation draws near, the Ninth Grade Class looks back over a year that holds fond memories. We are grateful to Mr. Wright, our teacher, and to Mrs. Guion and Mrs. Huey, grademothers, for their help in making this a memorable year.

There are memories of work: the short story in English and weekly reports in History. There are memories of play: sports, picnics, and dances.

The boys were on the senior football team and also coached the boys of the lower grades. All of the girls were on the basketball team. Susan McCarty, Madeline Anderson, Lorne Lassiter, and Molly Shaw were ninth grade cheerleaders. We are very proud of Robin Wright, first to win the Victor Ludorum Trophy for achievement on Sports Day.

Fun—a picnic early in the year at Camp Stewart and Mr. Wright jumping rope! Our teachers and some parents having fun with us at the square dance last November. The Class party after the Christmas Breakfast. The semi-formal dance in March with the Catalinas playing for us and our guests.

Extra-curricular activities have kept us busy. Lorne was president of the Student Council with able assistance from Madeline, Susan, Robin, and Woody Efird. Robin and Tommy Huey were members of the Boosters. Molly, Anne, Lorne, Tommy Huey, and Tommie Covington composed the Annual staff and Mary Jane, Anne, and Tommie Covington were on the editorial board of the Monitor. Mary Jane, Anne, and Tommy Huey helped on the Chapel committee.

We were successful at the Science Fair with Tommie Covington winning a first place, Mary Jane and Anne each a second place, and Tommy Huey an honorable mention.

May Day, with Lorne our Queen, Madeline and Susan her attendants, the other six girls members of the court; and the boys, our escorts and ambassadors, will never be forgotten.

We will cherish these memories, but, most of all, we shall never forget Country Day and its guidance!

The 1958 version of the Country Day School Rebels was limited because of the few candidates available, particularly Ninth Graders.

Our first game was with McClintock Junior High to whom we lost 20-13. Our two touchdowns were scored late in the game on our first and second passes.

Our second game was with Sedgfield Junior High who beat us 20-13. Once again, our last touchdown came on our same surprise pass play late in the game.

Our third and final game was with Barium Springs. We lost to them 20-0. Our surprise pass play failed to work, and we were held scoreless.

The Annual Football Banquet was very successful, and talks by various players showed that our spirits had not been dampened by the unsuccessful season.

Congratulations to all those who put forth their best efforts during the season and particularly to the following, who earned their letters: George Bagby, Tommie Covington, Woody Efird (Co-Captain), Bobby Gamble, Wilson Glasgow (Co-Captain), Chip Hanes, Jimmy Highsmith, Tommy Huey, Victor Josephs, Steve Larson, Tucker Laxton, Joe Renfro, Jim Strong, and Robin Wright.

BASKETBALL • SENIOR

The boys' basketball team of Country Day had a successful season. Under Jimmy Kiker, the Seventh and Eighth Grade boys learned many points of the game.

The team played four games this season; their record was 2-2. Chip Hanes, Tucker Laxton (Captain), George Bagby, Jimmy Highsmith, and Joe Renfroe were the starting five. The ample substitutes replaced them often.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

This year, the girls have had a varied and interesting program. We began the fall with archery. Although we couldn't compare with William Tell, our aim and control improved considerably.

The basketball season opened in November. The girls were inexperienced, but the spirit and general participation were high. As a consequence, we exceeded our ability and managed to score well in every game . . . we even won a few.

The principal spring sport was tennis. Under the capable instruction of Mrs. Grover B. Walters and Mrs. Walter B. Mayer, we learned the fundamentals of the game.

In May, as the weather became hotter, swimming completed the year's activity.

To make the year more enjoyable, Mrs. Walters directed jam sessions and discussions on such topics as grooming, social graces, and teen-age customs. In addition, we had special programs on art appreciation.

The junior girls also enjoyed their program. They played soccer during the fall and winter months, and played softball during the spring.

Much of the credit for the outstanding girls' program this year must go to Mrs. Walters. Because of her planning, enthusiasm, and understanding, every girl looked forward to the games period as a very special time in the school day.
